Cookies

In addition to data processing, "cookies" are also used on your computer when you use this website. Cookies are small text files that are stored on your terminal and saved on the hard drive by your browser. Cookies do not damage your computer and do not contain viruses. Rather, they serve to enable user-oriented and trouble-free navigation and functions and to make our offer more user-friendly, efficient, and secure. We and our partners (in the case of third-party cookies) can read cookies during your visit to our website. Information is stored in a cookie relating to the specific terminal being used. However, this does not mean that we immediately learn your identity.

Some of the cookies we use are deleted when you close your browser (technical or session cookies). These cookies record a session identification with which your computer can be recognized when you return to our website and which enables certain website functions.

Other cookies are only deleted after a predetermined period. They enable us or our partner companies to recognize your browser and the data and settings you have entered on a subsequent visit (so-called permanent cookies). Some of these cookies also allow us to statistically record the use of our website and to optimize our offers for you.

You can set your browser so that you are informed when cookies are created, that cookies are only allowed on a case-by-case basis, that the acceptance of cookies is excluded in certain cases or in general, and that cookies are automatically deleted when you close your browser. If you decide to delete or deactivate cookies, the functionality of our website may be limited.

If you want to adjust your cookie settings, you can do so by clicking on the cookie symbol at the bottom left and consulting your settings. You can also see which cookies are activated there.

CP2 Digital NV reserves the right to adjust the cookie policy in function of changes in the service provision or the applicable legislation. At the bottom of this page, you will find the date on which the policy was last adjusted.

For customers in France, our cookie practices comply with Article 82 of the French Data Protection Act and the CNIL guidelines.

You have the right to:

- Accept or refuse non-essential cookies
- Withdraw your consent at any time
- Refuse cookies as easily as accepting them

For more information about your cookie rights in France, please visit the CNIL website: https://www.cnil.fr

This page was last updated on December 16th, 2025.